

Rose Petal Expands Flagship Website

Contributed by Rose Petal
Sunday, 18 June 2006
Last Updated Sunday, 18 June 2006

She's been online since February, 2002, and she just keeps on going. In 2003, Rose opened Rose Petal Style, a designer's fashion emporium. In 2004, after winning Miss Gay Muncie, Rose fostered the appearance of several drag related websites including Miss Gay Indiana, and Jamie Douglas, as well as Rose Petal Bridal. In 2005, She opened Rose Petal Hosting after a web host denied her hosting because she was a drag queen.

And for 2006, "I've decided to get back to my roots, well, my first website, Rose Petal Galore."

"This time I've added the entire Amazon.com Product Index to the site", said Rose Petal, Drag Queen Darling of the Internet community.

"I kept finding myself over at Amazon doing my shopping, and decided to bring Amazon to Rose Petal Galore", continued Rose.

Now you too can do your shopping here at Rose Petal Galore, all handled by Amazon.com. It's very simple, just click on Shop Rose Petal Galore from the Main Menu, and off you go shopping.

"My new favorite gadget is my Video Ipod, so that's what's featured on the opening page of Rose's Online Mall." You've never heard Music until you've heard it through an iPod.

Tell your Friends to Shop Rose Petal Galore